UUUF

I have always supported measures and principles and not men. I have acted fearless and independent and I never will regret my course. I would rather be politically buried than to be hypocritically immortalized.

President’s Message

This month’s message is one of gratitude for the varied and interesting programs we experience at UUUF on a regular basis. Since we’re a lay-led fellowship, every single program is planned by our own members, and many of those programs are given by members themselves instead of outside speakers. What a talented band of brothers and sisters we have!

A broad array of expertise is represented in our membership. One Sunday we are treated to an original story by one of our creative writers and the next might bring life lessons from one of our teachers. On any given Sunday, we can hear from a scientist, historian, social worker or pilot, to name but a few, and all part of our small but very articulate group. One of my recent favorite talks was about bees, given by a beekeeper among us. Thank you all for your willingness to share your talents with the rest of us!

UUUF

Throughout history, it has been the inaction of those who could have acted, the indifference of those who should have known better, the silence of the voice of justice when it mattered most, that has made it possible for evil to triumph.

Haile Selassie

Of all the preposterous assumptions of humanity over humanity, nothing exceeds most of the criticisms made on the habits of the poor by the well-housed, well-warmed, and well-fed.

Herman Melville

I imagine one of the reasons people cling to their hates so stubbornly is because they sense, once hate is gone, they will be forced to deal with pain.
