If more politicians in this country were thinking about the next generation instead of the next election, it might be better for the United States and the world.

Claude Pepper

The most valuable possession you can own is an open heart. The most powerful weapon you can be is an instrument of peace.

President's Message

The only thing I can think of saying this month is VOTE.

If you vote by mail, do it as soon as possible and check the Supervisor of Elections website to verify that they received and accepted your ballot.

If you vote in person (a much more satisfying way), do it early so if there's a problem it can be fixed.

And no matter how you vote stay safe.

And that's all I can say

A strong nation, like a strong person, can afford to be gentle, firm, thoughtful, and restrained. It can afford to extend a helping hand to others. It is a weak nation, like a weak person, that must behave with bluster and boasting and rashness and other signs of insecurity.

Jimmy Carter

Patriotism is proud of a country's virtues and eager to correct its deficiencies; it also acknowledges the legitimate patriotism of other countries, with their own specific virtues. The pride of nationalism, however, trumpets its country's virtues and denies its deficiencies, while it is contemptuous toward the virtues of other countries. It wants to be, and proclaims itself to be, "the greatest", but greatness is not required of a country; only goodness is. Sydney J. Harris
