President's Message

As we near the midterm elections, my trepidation waxes and wanes. Every new revelation of voter suppression or Supreme Court activism gives me hope that lovers of democracy everywhere, left, right and center, will come out of the woodwork and vote to put down the slow motion revolution. However, if the efforts to suppress and/or overturn the vote are successful, our fragile democracy may finally be damaged beyond repair. We've heard so many times "this next election is the most important one ever." Guess what folks? This next one really is...

We have abundant reason to rejoice, that, in this land, the light of truth and reason has triumphed over the power of bigotry and superstition, and that every person may here worship God according to the dictates of his own heart. In this enlightened age, and in this land of equal liberty, it is our boast, that a man's religious tenets will not forfeit the protection of the laws, nor deprive him of the right of attaining and holding the highest offices that are known in the United States.
