President's Message

It was the best of times, yada yada yada.

As we say farewell to 2022, I'm torn between dread and hope. The glimmer of hope came when our elections weren't as depressing as expected. Many of the candidates who posed a danger to our republic were beaten. Sadly, some of them slipped into positions of power. The dread rises as I look forward to the next two years of either inaction or a purposeful rollback of the progress we made during the previous two years.

Our democracy, such as it is, teeters on the brink of destruction. The next generations hold the answer - it's all up to them.

Hello, 2023. What joys and sorrows do you hold for us?
